Slaying Of Abdullah Poses New Crisis

The Weather
Mostly sunny and warmer with highest in low or middle 80s today; not so cool tonight. Sunday rather cloudy warmer and more humid with scattered afternoon thundershowers.

House Refuses To Yield On Cattle Quotas

Washington (AP) — Administration forces last night lost the first two critical tests in the showdown over a new economic controls law. Both defeats came by thumping majorities.

The House refused to reverse its previous action banning livestock slaughtering quotas which the Truman administration contended are needed to prevent a revival of World War Two black markets.

The roll call vote against the quotas was 249 to 167. Five of the quotas contended they actually encourage black markets by restricting the business of legitimate slaughterers.

Shortly before, the chamber had dealt the administration another defeat when it voted 265 to 148 to write in a two-year ban on the import of fats, oils, peanuts, butter, cheese, and other dairy products if they compete with domestic products.

Under current slaughter quotas set by the Office of Price Stabilization, only 90 per cent as many beef cattle may be killed this month as in July of last year. The limit for calves, sheep and lambs is 85 per cent, and hogs 105 per cent.

Anti-administration forces rolled up another smashing majority on a third test when the House voted 232 to 124 to stand pat on its previous refusal to empower President Truman to acquire and operate defense plants.

By a 234-183 vote the House voted to reaffirm an earlier decision to limit farm price rollbacks, including beef, to 10 per cent of the May 19 price. If enacted into law, this will ban two projected beef price rollbacks of 4 1/2 per cent each set Aug. 1, and Oct. 1.

Administration forces chalked up victories when the house — One. Voted 243-172 to kill a proposed 120-day freeze on wage and price ceilings, except on farm products and rents.

Two. Defeated by 233-181 an attempt to write in a "reasonable profit" guarantee before price controls could be clamped down.

Three. Rejected by 249-166 a previously passed amendment to ban price ceilings on meat if they denied processors a down-the-line profit on every type of meat product they handled.

Before the final voting began, the House shouted down a move to abolish all credit controls but voted 140-43 to allow 21 months instead of the present 15 months for completing payments on new and used automobiles.

The House also voted additional easing of credit controls on household appliances, furniture and home repairs.

It would permit trade-ins to count toward down-payments on household appliances — television sets and the like. It also voted to lower the down payment on such articles from the present 25 per cent to 15 per cent, and to raise the maximum time for payment from 15 months to 18 months.

Installation of floor coverings were changed from 15 per cent to 10 per cent down payment, and from 15 months to 21 months to pay.

The down payment on household repairs was left at 10 per cent, but the maximum time for payment was hiked from 30 months to 36 months. In case of roofing and siding, down payments were eliminated entirely.

The chamber voted to set the down payment for new cars at one-third the total cost and one-fourth for used cars. Present regulations require one-third down payment for both new and used autos.

The House voted 92 to 52 to knock out a provision giving the President authority to regulate commodity speculation.

Moving at top speed, the House voted to liberalize down payments on homes. This would require prospective home owners to pay no more than 10 per cent down on houses costing up to $10,000, with 25 years to pay.

The present requirement limits the 10 per cent down payment to homes costing $5,000 or less. Required down payments on costlier homes range up to 50 per cent.

Rep. Patman (D-Tex) sponsored a successful amendment to extend the time limit on auto installment purchases from 15 to 21 months. The administration had said any extension should be limited to 18 months.

Armistice Talks Recess To July 25

Munsan, Korea, Saturday, (AP)—Crucial armistice talks in the Korean war were recessed today until today July 25. There was no immediate explanation.

Munsan, Korea, Saturday, (AP)—The crucial eighth meeting of United Nations and Communist delegates striving to work out an agenda for a Korean war armistice conference got under way today at 10 a. m. (8 p. m. EDT Friday).

U. N. delegates arrived by helicopter at the truce city of Kaesong at 9:40 a. m. They entered the conference room at 9:55 a. m. and two minutes later were followed by the Communist negotiators.

Before the Allied delegation departed it was given copies of Secretary of State Dean Acheson's statement calling the removal of all foreign troops from Korea a political issue. One copy was handed to vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, head of the U. N. negotiators.

War or peace in Korea seemed to hinge on this one issue. The Communists demand an agreement now on the question of withdrawing foreign troops from the mountainous ravaged peninsula.

The Allies have insisted this question is political and cannot be a condition for a military cease-fire.

It was the eighth meeting of the Allied and Red delegations. Yesterday's session was postponed after flooded streams prevented the U. N.-five member group from reaching Kaesong by jeep.

A motor convoy left for Kaesong with other personnel of the Allied delegation, including correspondents. Swollen creeks along the 15-mile road had subsided.

An Allied source said Friday "there is no great reason for optimism" on the possibility of settling the issue of withdrawing troops from Korea.

Even if this issue is solved, it will not mean a cease-fire, but merely an agreement on what subjects to discuss in seeking a cease-fire.

Through this haze of pessimism sifted reports that the issue might be resolved by a compromise calling for a limited withdrawal—each side agreeing to pull out some troops.

In Washington, Secretary of State Acheson made it clear that United Nations troops would remain in Korea "until a genuine peace has been firmly established."

He added:

"The size of the United Nations forces remaining in Korea will depend upon circumstances and, particularly, upon the faithfulness with which an armistice is carried out."

The eighth session of the talks might well be the make-or-break meeting. An Allied spokesman has said either an agenda would be completed or there would be "an air of finality about disagreement."

What's Wrong With Bribes, Mason Asks

Washington (AP)—The fabulous Sam Mason admitted yesterday he tapped "clients" for thousands in "sewer money" on promise to bribe Washington officials.

"But," he asked senators, "what's wrong with that?"

In answer, a Senate investigating committee turned over his testimony to the Justice department and Internal Revenue bureau, with a view to prosecution.

The committee has charged that Mason fleeced "gullible victims," including two Greek Catholic priests, out of a third of a million dollars.

Most of it was supposed to be used in lining up bargain dollar-a-year leases on government buildings. There would be a lot of buildings available, he told his clients, because the government was going underground to escape an atomic attack.

The committee said the 59-year-old Mason of New York, is really a Russian-born confidence man by the name of Mussman with a criminal record a yard long.

Mason, who said he once stuffed money into his hollow wooden leg, testified he had taken $88,000 from "clients" but said he had turned over most of the money to a mysterious "Mr. Eungart," now in Australia.

He also admitted he had not filed an income tax return since 1929 because he never had any money left at the end of the year. He said he lost a lot on the ponies.

The pudgy, florid-faced witness spoke calmly in a guttural voice.

Mason testified that he told his clients their money would be used as "sewer money," but that he did not want to use the word bribe.

"But you were entering into a scheme to bribe government officials," asked committee counsel Francis Flanagan.

"Yes," Mason acknowledged.

"What's wrong with that?"

That touched off a roar of laughter in the crowded hearing room.

Crown Prince Wilhelm Dies

Hechingen, Germany, (AP) — Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, frustrated eldest son of Kaiser Wilhelm II of World War One, died yesterday at his little villa — far removed from the Berlin palace he hoped to occupy as emperor of a new imperial Germany.

The heir-apparent of Germany's last Kaiser died after a long illness, within sight of an 80-room Hohenzollern castle he lacked the money to live in. He was 69.

Crown Princess Cecilie, separated from Wilhelm for many years, rushed here from Bad Kissingen, but did not arrive in time. A specialist listed arterial sclerosis as the cause of death.

A great grandson of England's Queen Victoria, Wilhelm lived out two of the most destructive wars in history and two shattering German defeats.

King Abdullah

Aged Monarch Slain At Holy Moslem Shrine

Jerusalem, (AP) — King Abdullah of Jordan, a power in the war and peace councils of the Arab world, was shot dead by an assassin yesterday in the section of Jerusalem he brought under his sway in war with Israel.

The Middle East, already in turmoil from oil and religious issues, thus faced a new crisis.

The 69-year-old monarch was slain at the holiest of the holy Moslem shrines within his realm, at the entrance to the imposing Mosque of Omar, an ancient pile that raises its minarets over the dome of the rock from which Koranic scripture says Mohammed rose to Heaven on a white horse.

The assassin was killed on the spot by Abdullah's bodyguard.

An official announcement later said the assassin was a 21-year-old Jerusalem Moslem tailor named Mustafa Shukry Ashsho, or Ashou. The Arab news agency and other sources said he was a member of the "sabotage corps" or "demolition squad" of an underground group called "The Sacred Struggle organization." Two high-ranking officers with Abdullah were reported wounded.

Cairo, (AP) — King Abdullah always wore a dagger in his belt — but it was soldered in its sheath so he could not draw it.

The King ordered the soldiering job on the advice of his counselors because he had come close to knifing one of his subjects too often when his mercurial temper was aroused.

An earlier report from informed British sources identified the killer as Mustafa Shukri and said he had past connections with the exiled former Mufti of Jerusalem, now living in Cairo.

One report said the assassin belonged to a terror squad headed by Abdul Kader Hussayni (or Hussini), the Mufti's cousin, until he was killed in battle in 1948. This organization was reported to have operated under supervision of the Mufti and the Arab Higher committee.

The vigorous, bearded King, 5-foot-4 tall, had been at odds with his Arab neighbor monarchs from time to time over the years. Abdullah was a First World War ally of Lawrence of Arabia and a protégé of Winston Churchill on the checkerboard of Mid-East politics.

The Jordan radio in Amman, announced his 35-year-old second son, Emir (Prince) Naif was immediately named regent to rule over the 300,000 Jordan subjects. The radio then began Jordan's official mourning period with verses from the Koran chanted by the mullahs (Moslem priests).

The Jordan rule also includes Old Jerusalem and a slice of Palestine won by Abdullah's British-supported Arab legion in the war against the Israelis in the late 1940s.

Abdullah's eldest son, Emir Talal, 40, was replaced temporarily in the line of succession because of a nervous or mental ailment. Talal left Amman recently after an incident described by the Israeli press as gun-firing attack on Brigadier John Bagot Glubb Pasha, British-born commander of Abdullah's crack Arab Legion forces. Official sources in Amman denied there was any such attack. Talal was taken to Beirut for treatment and was reported now out of hospital care and vacationing in Switzerland.

The Amman radio said Emir Naif had taken the oath as regent in Parliament at Amman, a dusty little capital more than 1,000 years older than Christ. It was a blooming city known as Philadelphia when Mohammed conquered with the Koran and the sword.

Abdullah's death came as the perennially troubled Middle East seemed more troubled than ever.

Neighborhood Israel, with which Abdullah had been variously at war and in diverse deals that displeased his Arab allies, was among the first nations to express regrets and fears for the consequences of his passing.

By adding to overall Mid-Eastern turmoil, Abdullah's assassination clearly plays into Russia's hands.

Girl Slain; Friend Of Father Held

Champaign, Ill. (AP)—A pretty 17-year-old brunette was raped and slain yesterday, her nude body punctured 45 times by an implement similar to an ice pick. The victim of the brutal attack was Janet Clark, a Champaign High school student.

Police shortly afterward detained a friend of her father's for questioning. Capt. Russell Burke said a wristwatch belonging to the man was found near the body, and that the man admitted visiting the Clark home yesterday morning but denied the slaying.

The girl's father, Paul Clark, said she was in bed when he left for his job with a moving company at 8 a. m. An hour and a half later, a neighbor found her body on the floor of her father's bedroom.

Police were questioning Percy Farmer, 34, who lived some six blocks from the Clark home. Farmer and Dick Barham, 18, Champaign High school football player, spent several hours at the home Thursday night as guests of the girl's father.

Burke said Farmer was taken into custody when his wristwatch, its leather strap broke, was found near the girl's body. Farmer, Burke said, admitting owning the watch and said he must have left it at the house Thursday night.

State's Attorney John J. Bresse said a stain believed to be blood was found on Farmer's trousers and that it will be analyzed.

Rita Now Asks 'Speedy Divorce'

New York (AP)—Rita Hayworth's lawyer said yesterday "she wants a speedy divorce." He added that Prince Aly Khan apparently is wasting his time trying to make up with the movie actress.

"Miss Hayworth is definitely of the opinion that the matter is terminated," attorney Bartley Crum said.

The Prince, he said, begged Rita to wait six months at least before going ahead with the divorce.

Witness Reports Threats On Life

Washington (AP) — The Senate Crime committee said yesterday a witness in its probe of Atlantic City gambling had become the target of a death threat. It promptly enlisted the aid of the FBI.

The witness, Francis L. Smith, appeared before the committee shortly after disclosure of the warning that he would be "rubbed out" if he testified.

At the end of the war, she tried to enter the U. S. again. A year ago, the McCarran act made her ineligible because of the Nazi taint. Red tape was cut when the circumstances were explained.

Reds Seize Oil Lands In China

Hong Kong, Saturday (AP) — The Peiping radio announced today seizure July 18 of all property of three American oil companies in Red China.

The companies were Standard Vacuum, Caltex, Ltd., and Chung Mei (Cathay Oil Co.).

The Reds last December 29 ordered seizure of all American property in China. The oil companies, under strict Red control since then, apparently had not been physically taken over until July 18.

Barn Falls On Man's Thumb

Ephrata, (AP)—Harvey Sauder, 54, nursed a sprained right thumb yesterday and explained to friends "A barn fell on it."

Together with other workers in this eastern Pennsylvania town, Sauder was working to move a frame barn, 23 by 35 feet, to a new foundation. During the operation a support slipped and the building tilted over, pinning Sauder against the foundation.

He was freed when the barn was jacked up again. Then the moving was completed.

Girl Unconscious 85 Days Injured In Fall From Car

Butler, (AP)—A six-year-old girl who has lain unconscious and at death's door for 85 days may be saved through a combination of three miracles—drugs, faith and neighborly love.

Physicians battling to restore little Janet Shouse to consciousness administered the miracle drugs. Janet's parents, Rudolph and Mildred Shouse, provided the faith.

Neither parent had left the hospital bedside since the tot was taken there, suffering from a skull fracture received in falling from an automobile onto the highway last April 23.

But the 24-hour vigil, as doctors all but gave up hope for the child's recovery, was not all. Neighbors stepped in to take a hand.

They started by bringing home-cooked meals to the hospital for the Shouse family. Fifty families in surrounding communities chipped in money to help pay mounting medical expenses. Now they're trying to devise means to raise more money because the Shouses' hospitalization insurance has nearly run out.

But the important thing is that Janet is alive. Doctors said she probably would not survive the first 24 hours after the accident. Then they said Janet had little chance to ever regain her eyesight.

Now the child's eyes follow her mother about the hospital room, although Janet still is unable to speak or move—to register any sign or gesture of thanks to those who pitched in the long fight for life.

These division exercises, culminating a 28-week training cycle program before leaving for Exercise Southern Pine in the Fort Bragg, N. C. maneuver area next month, have all the units of the former Pennsylvania National Guard division working together as a big team.

Infantry, artillery, anti-aircraft artillery, engineers, tanks, medical, signal operations, ordnance, reconnaissance, quartermaster, military police, division headquarters and all other service units are out in the field, employing the various techniques of modern warfare learned here for the past ten months.

Tactical air support is also being utilized to make these problems more realistic under simulated battle conditions.

Company G Men Have Different Opinions About Going To Europe At Conclusion Of Maneuvers In Early Fall

Camp Atterbury, Ind. — The news that the 28th Division had been alerted for Europe in the early Fall had only just been circulated to the troops at Camp Atterbury when a large amount of discussion was whispered along the lines by the men affected by the order.

No sooner could the word be passed to members of the 10th Infantry at this camp by Maj. Gen. Daniel A. Strickler, commanding officer of the 28th Division, than local men of the Stroudsburg started to reflect the feelings that had been built up ever since the first rumor of going started to spread in the early part of their training.

"It's great to see that they have the confidence in this division," spoke up Sgt. H. W. Haas, rural mail carrier of 628 King St., Stroudsburg. "I was with this outfit in the last war in Europe and I know what it can do. The government made no mistake when it picked the 'Bloody Bucket' Division," was his proud boast.

A business school student, Cpl. John Osborn, 115 Sixth St., expressed the feeling. "Something could be accomplished by this latest move. Almost half the time that we have had to serve has been spent here already. Now something can be accomplished by our going overseas. Not only will we be protecting the other countries from the threat of Communist aggression, but we will be making our time go a little faster," was his commentary on the situation.

"But suppose that they extend the time while we're over there," piped in Cpl. Nelson Siffert, 99 Burson St., Stroudsburg, "and that our future would only be longer in the end? I don't mind doing my duty but everything is so indefinite in the Army. We're liable to be over there far longer than we expect before they can get enough troops together to replace us," concluded the former office worker.

Another former member of the 28th Division in the last war said, "My days of going overseas are over. It may be all right to go over once, but I've had it. Now that I'm back from my first encounter with the other side, and I've married, I want to stay here. Have someone else go who hasn't had the experience. I've got a family to support," summed up Sgt. Carl Singer, 312 Wallace St., Stroudsburg.

Meanwhile the stories went the same way all the way through the line. Some were anxious to go while others would just as well stay behind. But the job has to be done and now it is up to the division to get itself to the strength needed to thwart and attempts of Communism from spreading in the western world and making a bigger threat to our country and freedom.

Close Race Shapes Up For County Commissioner Nominations

Better Than Average Vote Likely Here

Seasoned political observers here yesterday shied away from clear-cut predictions on the outcome of the hottest race in both Democratic and Republican parties—the battle for County Commissioner with six Republican and five Democratic candidates. They held that the vote next Tuesday will be "better than average for a primary."

They skirted the flat statement, but hinted that all three incumbents might have a difficult race on their hands. Each party will nominate two candidates for commissioner.

Incumbents are Granville Shiffer, Democratic chairman and seeking renomination for his second term; Willard L. Quick, Democrat, seeking re-nomination for his fourth term and Harry D. Kresge, Republican seeking renomination for his third term.

On the surface, it appeared that party organizations were keeping clear of the commissioner and other contests, but the candidates had reached the "pay-off" point yesterday in lining up their individual workers.

Seeking to upset the incumbents on the Democratic slate are:

George E. Shick, Stroudsburg, who has served two terms in the commissioners' office and who is attempting a come-back at Tuesday's Democratic primaries.

Russell D. Smith, East Stroudsburg, who is a newcomer to the political races. Mr. Smith has been affiliated with Monroe County Water Co. for many years.

Forrest H. Haney, Stroudsburg, another newcomer to the political wars. Originally from Hamilton township, Haney is a veteran and associated with Metropolitan Edison Co.

The Republican race includes five men who are in the battle with incumbent Commissioner Kresge for that party's nomination. They are:

Francis L. Brodhead, Stroudsburg, a newcomer to the political wars here. Mr. Brodhead is an employee of State Highway department.

W. Adolph Rake, East Stroudsburg, another first-timer. He is a building contractor.

Joseph S. Price, Barrett township, still another newcomer in a county office battle. Mr. Price is a farmer and former resort operator.

Russell H. Minich, Jackson township, formerly engaged in the metal trades business; is the fourth new face in a county political battle.

Amzi F. Altemose, Chestnut Hill township, sheriff of Monroe county, is the other candidate for Republican nomination.

The heat of this battle and the large number of candidates, indicate a big battle for election in November with the Republicans apparently setting their sights on an effort to name two commissioners and take over control of the highest administrative office in the county.

"This is the year" is a common remark among the Republicans, but Democratic party members and leaders are biding their time and banking on the strength of their registered plurality, one observer said.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bush and children, of Valley Stream, L. I., have been spending their vacation at the home of the former's father, Charles Bush.

It was announced at the recent meeting of the East Stroudsburg School Board that Delbert Davis, this place, had been added to the staff of that school system. He will teach social studies and will be assistant coach. Mr. Davis, together with his family, is a comparatively new resident in the borough, having purchased the former Keith property.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard and daughter, Camille, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Buzzard, have returned from a motor trip to Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Enroute they visited the oldest city in the United States, St. Augustine, where they saw Ripley's Believe It or Not display, Castillo de San Marcos, the Alligator farm, and other points of interest. They also visited Marineland, while in Fort Lauderdale.

Stroudsburg Pool Closed Today, Sunday

The swimming pool at Stroudsburg Playground will be closed today and tomorrow to permit a thorough cleaning by borough forces.

Weather conditions during the past few days have made pool water cloudy and necessitated the decision to close and drain it for a thorough scrubbing today.

Steps will be taken to have the pool filled for operation again Monday, officials said. Other playground activities and facilities will operate as usual.

Accident Occurs At Intersection

Robert A. Norton, of Newport News, Va., was driving north on Route 611 when he failed to keep to the right and crashed into the car owned and operated by James Rubino, of Roselle Park, N. J., around 11:20 last night, Stroudsburg police reported.

No one was hurt, but there was extensive body damage done to the cars and they had to be towed away.

Norton is a sailor and is stationed at Quonset Point, R. I. The accident took place at Morningside and Park Avenues, Stroudsburg.

dale, the Buzzards drove to Hollywood, Fla., where they visited briefly with Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. LaBar, former residents of Stroudsburg.

Urgent Plea Issued For Blood Donors

An urgent appeal for volunteer blood donors was issued here last night when it was learned Monroe county's quota had been placed at 125 pints for the visit of the bloodmobile at CLU Hall, East Stroudsburg, Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Leroy Mikels, chairman of the blood donor system, said only 26 persons have volunteered to date and the situation is somewhat hampered by the fact a great many people are on vacation.

Need for blood is particularly urgent for a number of reasons. Middle-West floods have made it impossible for the Red Cross blood program to operate, hence a loss in normal blood supplies for Korean and civilian use here.

These same floods and oil fires have burned a large number of persons who are in need of whole blood in the great rehabilitation program now being pushed in that region.

People who are here on vacation are included in the invitation to volunteer by calling American Red Cross headquarters in Stroudsburg. The telephone number is 357.

Members are invited to bring their families. All Blue Lodge members and their families are also invited.

Coolbaugh Township Accident Puts Five Persons In Hospital

Tobyhanna—Five persons were injured in a two-car collision five miles north of Mount Pocono in Coolbaugh township at 6:45 p. m. yesterday.

Zelmon Skueazzeski, of Atlas, Pa., was driving east on Route 611 when his car collided with the car driven by Wilbur Gangwer, of Hoboken, N. J., who was driving north on the same road.

Three people were in Skueazzeski's car. They were James Smith, of Mount Carmel, who suffered lacer

Hint to Safe Drivers

The cost of automobile insurance is soaring. In the last two months, The Wall Street Journal reports, 107 leading insurance companies have raised rates in 22 states on policies covering injuries by cars to persons and property, in some cases by as much as 30 per cent.

Those companies are expected to increase such rates in other states. Other companies doubtless will follow suit. And similar boosts for fire, theft and collision insurance are forecast.

In part, of course, the rate raises are due to inflation, which has hiked the cost of repairing damage to people and property. In part they may be due to the wide design of current car bodies, which makes what used to be a minor sideswipe a major repair job.

But by far the greatest factor is bad driving. With a record number of automobiles in use, speeding, careless driving, drunken driving and other human faults are causing more accidents.

Unfortunately, the rate increases apply to all car owners who buy insurance. This means that careful, sensible drivers are penalized for the misbehavior of the speeders, the reckless, the drunks and the nuts who don't know how to act sensibly behind a steering wheel.

What to do about that injustice? Well, for one thing, it might help a lot if safe drivers would use all the influence they can muster for strict enforcement of traffic laws and drastic punishment of unsafe drivers who are to blame for serious accidents.

The Cat Came Back

Doubtless the story of the cat hiking 700 miles back to its Pennsylvania home has not escaped the eyes of those who write the advance publicity for Pennsylvania Week, but certainly it should not be ignored as an evidence of the magnetic characteristic of our native state.

It seems that this particular feline, although a native of Indiana, spent some 10 months with its owner while he was on duty at the Valley Forge Hospital. And in those months, the cat . . . name of Jasper . . . became so enamored of the sylvan countryside in Pennsylvania that when driven back home to Indiana he promptly went AWOL and in a record-breaking hike turned up again at Phoenixville, near the hospital.

Any Pennsylvanian will tell you that there is no state like his own, and when this enthusiasm is evidenced by the animal world, it is proof positive of the contention.

Government Pay

Fairness justifies a pay raise for the Federal Government's employees. They haven't had one since late 1949 and living costs have climbed since then, as we all know well.

President Truman favors a flat 7 per cent increase for some 1,500,000 classified Civil Service workers and 500,000 postal workers. A Senate committee has voted to make it 8.8 per cent for a large majority and slightly less for some in the higher salary brackets.

Either plan would boost the cost of meeting the present payroll by upwards of half a billion dollars a year. Whatever plan it adopts, Congress should enforce a sharp reduction of the number of people on that payroll.

One method, heretofore favored by the Senate, would be to attach to appropriation bills orders to most departments and agencies to dismiss 10 per cent of their employees.

The House contends, however, that a better method is to order the departments and agencies to replace no more than three-fourths of the workers who leave their jobs before next July.

With defense costs mounting, it is imperative to cut down spending and employing on the Government's non-defense activities and to do so by the method most certain to get positive results. Fairness to the taxpayers demands that.

Fred Beahcok says his favorite story about the late Sinclair Lewis concerns the day he went to Yale for a class reunion. The banquet speakers all hailed him as America's greatest writer, and dwelled at length on how all of them had recognized his genius in undergraduate days and helped him in every way they could.

Then Lewis arose to speak, and this is what he said: "When I came to Yale I was a freckle-faced, red haired, gangling, gawky greenhorn from a small town in Minnesota, and all of you either ignored me or high batted me. Now that I've been lucky enough to achieve a little notoriety, you've changed your tune and are trying to horn in on the act."

"You were not my friends then, and you're not my friends now. As far as I'm concerned, you can all go to the devil."

With that, Red Lewis walked out.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—"Kind Lady" is a suspense movie starring 71-year-old Ethel Barrymore as a gracious dowager held prisoner in her own mansion by a gang of thieves.

They are led by Maurice Evans, famed British-born Shakespearean here playing his first major American film role. As a handsome heavy, he first casts a charm, then leaves spectators clucking at his callous villainy.

It's London when autos still resembled carriages. Rich Miss Barrymore is beloved throughout her fashionable neighborhood for her thoughtful benefactions. A struggling artist (Evans) latches on to her generosity.

Through a ruse aided by a shady physician, he gets his apparently ill wife installed in Miss Barrymore's home. He moves in with conviving friends (Keenan Wynn and Angela Lansbury), imprisons the owner and her maid in their rooms, and sells the victim's costly furniture and paintings. Posing as her nephew, he prepares to sell her home and grab her fortune. He smoothly feeds off her inquiring friends by explaining that she has gone insane.

The hoax builds up into an exciting finish cluttered only slightly by unexplained details.

The picture is based on an Edward Chodorov play taken from a story by Hugh Walpole. The acting is superb throughout, including that of Wynn as Evans' stupid muscle man and Betsy Blair as Evans' bewildered wife. More movies as compelling as this, and Hollywood will have fewer worries about television.

"Peking Express," on the other hand, as a grim, confusing welter of smooching, bloody violence, an palaver about Democracy-vs.-Communism.

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

The Treaty with Japan—No partisan politics should be permitted to interfere with the signing and ratification of the proposed Dulles treaty with Japan.

This is a crucial document in the solution of our Asiatic problems. If the United States can have a line of friendly and allied nations, running unbrokenly from Japan to Australia and New Zealand, we should, at any rate, not be in peril of having the West coast of territorial United States as our first line of defense.

The "Hongkong Standard," on June 27, called attention to the indisputable fact that the Communists did not start the Korean war merely to possess Korea. This newspaper said editorially:

"The attack on South Korea by the Korean Communists, even if it had been successful, would not have been an end in itself. It was obviously the intention of Russia to have all of Korea occupied as a springboard against Japan. The unexpected decision of the United Nations to defend the Republic of Korea by an international force may have upset Moscow's immediate plan of operation, but it has in no way discouraged Moscow from trying to conquer Japan through its satellites."

This same newspaper, close to the scene and often expressive of Nationalist Chinese views, further says:

"The conquest of Japan may take either of two forms. The first is an uprising in Japan with the ready response of the Japanese prisoners of war now under Moscow's command and of the Korean and Chinese Communists. This was perhaps the original plan. The other is an open invasion of Japan by the Chinese Communists under the pretext that Peking has been barred from participation in the Japanese peace treaty or under any other pretext which Communist ingenuity may conceive of."

The State Department is pursuing sound policy in going ahead with the Japanese treaty without waiting for Russian approval. That approval would never be forthcoming by ordinary negotiation; it is doubtful whether there will be Russian participation in the San Francisco Conference. For, no matter how you look at it, the restoration of Japan among the nations and its rebuilding as a military base ipso facto weakens the power of Soviet Russia in Asia.

Japan had, prior to its defeat in 1945, a marked infiltration among the Chinese. Some of the most notable followers of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen were pro-Japanese in the sense that they feared Russia more than Japan and they favored an "Asia for the Asiatics" movement. War-time propaganda painted Wang Ching-Wei as a Japanese puppet, but, in the history of the Chinese movement toward liberty and independence, no figure was closer to Sun Yat-Sen or more trusted by him. I was associated with Sun Yat-Sen for many years and once carried a message from him to like-minded leaders in Japan.

It is impossible to believe that such a poignant relationship established over a period of 30 years has altogether been killed by war. Many of the other Chinese military men studied in Japan or in Japanese schools in China, particularly in Manchuria. The Chinese Communists are aware of this strong Japanese influence and have been liquidating hundreds of thousands of Chinese who have been under either Japanese or American, especially Christian, cultural influence.

Washington—Canada is lodging a stiff protest because of what it is beginning to term the "un-reciprocal defense program." Under the set-up, Canada agreed to standardize its aircraft and armaments with the United States in the interest of hemisphere defense. She now contends that the United States has failed to live up to the agreement in sharing production of defense items.

As a "for instance," Canada points to $800 million worth of war material orders she has placed in this country, as against a mere $15 million worth of reciprocal orders placed by the United States in Canada.

Canada protests that there's more than sentiment involved—it's a need for United States dollars. She's getting short, and she feels that she's in the middle on a squeeze play.

She can't cut down on her military purchases—but on the other hand she can't continue to buy far more from us than we buy from her without running into exchange trouble.

Food Give Away—Rep. Karl Stefan (R), Nebraska, contends that even if the American farmers gave away all the food they raised for free, the people in New York would still only save 20 cents out of every dollar on their grocery bills.

The Nebraskan argues this would occur "without a shadow of a doubt" because of the complex and in many areas, the antiquated system of distributing and marketing food products.

Stefan comments: "In this day of inflation and the high cost of living, it is far from fair to blame it all on the farmer."

He cites some statistics to prove his points: Corn in a can which sells on the grocery shelf for 19 cents brought less than 2.75 cents to the farmer.

Wheat in a loaf of bread brings the grower less than three cents. A cotton shirt sells in the stores for four dollars and the cotton farmer who provided the basic material nets only 30 cents.

High Cost of Strawberries—Speaking of food, Usher L. Burdick (R), North Dakota, is protesting the high cost of strawberries on Capitol Hill.

Burdick contends that congressmen can live well enough on their present salaries but NOT if they eat in the special House restaurant.

In typifying the high prices charged there, he says: "I can buy a quart of strawberries for 33 cents in a grocery store and serve six persons but in the House restaurant it costs me 45 cents for a mighty small dish of them."

Congressional Crack-Down—Congress is considering and is expected to enact a law which would make radio and television broadcasting pitchmen think twice before trying to defraud their listeners.

The new legislation would establish stringent penalties and would make false or fraudulent advertising via radio or television a federal offense for the first time.

Heretofore, this has been a problem with which local law enforcement officials were compelled to deal in the event of actual violations.

Savings Up—The lull in the inflation spirit is giving people a chance to build up their savings again and pay off some accumulated debts. The Commerce department reports that a sharp increase in personal savings accompanied the slowdown in consumer spending last month.

Consumer purchases in May were well below last winter's peak, despite the fact that both incomes and employment are still rising.

Personal income, now at an annual rate of nearly $245 billion, is 14 per cent higher than a year ago. But people spent only eight per cent more in May than they did the month before the start of the Korean war.

This means Americans were able to bank a bigger portion of their pay checks last month than in the pre-inflation month of May, 1950.

Peace has at last come into our house. Unfortunately it is going to last only a week.

After that, our "home sweet home" will once again become a bedlam of homicides, fights, holdups, all kinds of crimes of violence.

Horses will be galloping through our living room. Beautiful blondes will again cry their hearts out in that same room, while waiting for their unjustly accused sweethearts to be set free by the jury which has already been out for six days and nights.

The privacy of our parlor will once again be invaded by people of all sorts who will be asked all sorts of foolish questions and give equally foolish answers.

But today there is peace in our house. The repair man has taken the television set to the shop and has telegraphically announced that he won't be able to have it back for a week.

When I told my wife that she would not be able to see Arthur Godfrey and Hopalong Cassidy this week, she said with a Mona Lisa smile, "That's too bad. But I may be able to survive the shock."

Television has been much in the limelight recently. Primarily because of the danger that we may soon have to see all the black-and-white horrors in color.

And since publicity always arouses interest, television, which had become a taken-for-granted habit, is being paralyzed, diagnosed and surveyed.

In my opinion, television once again bears out what I have said several times before: We have made marvelous progress mechanically and physically, but spiritually and mentally we are so far retarded as we were years ago.

With this almost miraculous discovery of television, what are we doing about it?

We are glorifying murder, robbery, faithlessness, nudity. We are giving our children an opportunity to become experts in villainy, crime and indecency. We are teaching them gutter language, gutter manners, gutter habits.

Only the other day there was a little five-year-old tyke on television. He was the son of a famous artist.

The interrogator asked him, "What do you want to be when you grow up? A great artist like your daddy?" "No," lisped the kid, "I wanna be a hold-up man on a horse."

A couple of evenings ago I had nothing useful or entertaining to do. So I turned to my television set.

Three stations were showing crime stories. Just for the fun of it I switched idly from station to station, from one crime story to the next.

And, lo and behold, I got just as much sense out of watching the three at a time as I would have if I had stayed on one station.

There were dead people lying around on all three stations. There were cops running all over the place on all three. There were yells and screams and shot and smoke—and, at the end, just before the commercial, justice prevailed, the guilty was caught, the boy and the girl fell in each other's arms, and the moral? "Smoke the Soandas cigarettes!"

My wife, apparently noticing how I was "scrambling" the telecasts, called down:

"What on earth are you doing down there?" And I called up: "I'm studying to be a moron."

Progress in the Toby Case

We have, like many others, failed to find Toby, the Fifth Avenue dog reported by the Moscow radio as having been willed 75 million dollars and retaining a staff of 45 servants and six lawyers. But we have located the lawyers. They are the legal firm of Barker, Sliffen, Scratchitt, Poochman, Barker & Barker. We tried to reach Alonzo Z. Barker, senior member, but in vain.

"Is Alonzo Z. Barker in?" we asked.

"Who's calling?" asked secretary.

We gave a name. "He never sees PEOPLE," said the secretary. "Just dogs. Today he is in conference with Great Danes. Tuesday is his Collie day. Wednesday he goes to the mountains to catch up on his St. Bernard cases."

"How about Jarvis Barker?" we asked.

"He's in court in the case of Terrier versus Katz, Justice Bone presiding," she replied.

We got hold of Sniffen, who has been with Barker, Sliffen, Scratchitt, Poochman, Barker & Barker since he was knee high to a dashund. (He represented Fala, the Roosevelt pooch, in the suit for libel against a Republican columnist and was also counsel for Duke's Peerless Ostermoor III which beat the rap on the charge of robbing the kennel rations department at Macy's.)

"Yes, I know Toby," said Mr. Sniffen. Toby was reading a volume of Blackstone with a colored picture of the Hound of the Baskervilles on the cover. "He is not worth 75 millions or he would need seven lawyers, not six. He came to our firm saying we had been recommended by another dog, a French poodle. I recalled the case. It was that of Bernhard's Parisian Belle Ninth, a typical French poodle that had been clipped in the usual fantastic and absurd manner and had sued its owner for cruelty. We won easily."

"But about Toby?" we pressed. "Toby is sort of divided up among the firm," Mr. Sniffen replied. "I represent him only in actions brought by letter carriers, butchers' boys and peddlers. The Barkers take care of him in matters involving street fights and park damage. Scratchitt looks after his love affairs."

Buck Hill Players In "Our Town"

Barrett — "Our Town" by Thornton Wilder will be presented on Thursday night, July 26, and on Friday afternoon and night, July 27 in the Buck Hill auditorium. It is an American classic, full of homespun humor, and honest portrayal of characters.

Many favorite Buck Hill Players will appear in "Our Town". Patricia Johnson of Brooklyn, New York, and Donald Straub of South Orange, New Jersey, featured Players last season, are cast as Emily and George, the young couple around whom the story centers.

Their parents are played by Marian Martin, Sam Harned, Cornelia Stabler Giam, and David Martin. John Atherton portrays the old New England character who serves as the narrator of this unusual play.

Others in the large cast include Virginia Day, Tom Turner, Thurlow West, Frederick Hartman, Jimmy Giffard, and Anne Belford. Eugene Youngken, associate director of the Players, will direct the production.

The choral group, directed by Lorraine Merwin Miller, will be featured as the choir in "Our Town." Tickets are on sale, at the Players' box office, or may be ordered by mail or telephone.

Ever-Welcomes Lives Up To Name At Picnic Supper

The Ever-Welcome class of the Stroudsburg Methodist church were welcomed at the home of Mrs. William Thomas, Lindbergh Ave., on Thursday night even though the weather was unsuitable for the outdoor picnic supper they had planned.

The supper, featuring the favorite dishes of the members, last nothing, however, by being moved into the garage where they dined in state and also held their business meeting. They planned to hold the August meeting at the home of Mrs. Ida Strunk.

Rev. Walter Johnston, new minister of the Stroudsburg Methodist church, and his wife were guests at the supper. Members present included Mrs. Ida Strunk, Mrs. Cora Price, Mrs. Nora Reish, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wagner, Mrs. Agnes Gunn, Mrs. Linnie Hartman, Mrs. Edith Christman, Mrs. Elizabeth Hintze, Mrs. Martha Starnes, Mrs. Edith Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Finner, Mrs. Hazel Finner, Mrs. Horace Stiff, Mrs. William Thomas and her son, William.

Dinner-Dance Tonight

Golfers and their guests will be entertained tonight at a dinner dance at Glen Brook Country club, Mike Rubish, club pro, announced last night. A buffet dinner will be served at six and there will be dancing on the patio to the music of an orchestra beginning at 9.

Supper Tonight

Bartonville — The Ladies Aid Society of St. John's Lutheran church, Bartonville, are sponsoring a supper and bazaar on the church lawn tonight beginning at 5 p.m. to which the public is invited.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The difference a little sun and a little lift to the air makes. Seems as if everybody was up and out early yesterday morning, instead of drowsing the morning away.

Everybody was ambitious, too, as witness the clean clothes that blossomed on clothes lines all over town. Only trouble was that the picnics were so delightful that nobody ever went home so they could tell me about them.

Didn't need telling in some cases, though, as the sound of merriment drifted from the lawn back of the Presbyterian Manse in Stroudsburg where the Youth Fellowships were dancing on the green.

Meanwhile, a whole army of younger fry were marching around the block with dishpan drums and broomstick flags and all the paraphernalia which children from time immemorial seemed to arm themselves for the assault on the quiet of an early summer evening.

To tell you the truth it was sort of a chore to come in, myself, when I was called by duty. Much more tempting to play golf, even though roundly beaten, than to do the food shopping; much more exciting to watch the Little League game than to call a series of unanswered telephone numbers.

All this and politics, too. This election day seems to be sort of sneaking up on us, sandwiched in between picnics and vacations. Neither of which should interfere with your bounden duty next Tuesday.

Community Is Theme Of Study Of Mission Group

Brookheads — The Women's Missionary Society of the Zion Lutheran Church, Brookheads, held its monthly meeting at the home of Miss Ella Mills and Mrs. Clarence Mills on Tuesday, July 17.

Mrs. Frank Varney, president, presided at the business meeting, and Miss Sallie Serfass led the devotional period.

Mrs. Claude Miller conducted a magazine quiz, in which all participated. Following the business, the meeting was turned over to the secretary of program, Mrs. Lloyd Altmore, whose topic was "Blueprint for a Christian Community". She stressed how leadership, education, social and economic factors play a part in acquiring a Christian community.

Proceeding the meeting, a covered dish supper was served on the porch of the Mills home, and enjoyed by the following: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dainy, Mr. and Mrs. George Doid, Mr. George Kunkle, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Altmore, Mrs. Ruth Serfass and daughter Carol, Mrs. Claude Miller and daughter Kathy, Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Dorshimer, and son George, Mrs. William Kresge, Miss Sallie Serfass, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Varney, Mrs. Alice Mills, Woodrow Mills, Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Fred Stahl, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mills and Miss Ella Mills.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Thomas, August 21. It will be a covered dish supper at 6:30 p. m.

The Lutheran communion will be held on Sunday, July 22.

Zion Church Picnic Set For Tuesday

Gruppo; most unusual doll carriage, Susan Morrow; oldest doll in original clothes, Susan Williams for 10 year old doll; oldest dolls face in best condition, Brenda Fehr; prettiest china face, Janet Williams.

Prettiest bride doll, Judy Pritchard; smallest, Nancy Miller; best bridesmaid, Janet Parsons.

There was also a division for foreign dolls, with the prize for Italy to Christine Spagnola; Holland, Susan Schiemmer; Italy, P. Gruppo; Paris, France, Roberta Smith; Berlin, Germany, Betty Ann Hill; Wales, Wanda Ott; France, Barbara Silico; Denmark, Carol Silico; Scottish Canadian, Gail Pellicchia. The child bringing a doll the longest distance was Patricia Williams of Easton RD.

Judges for the contest included Ernest Turzo, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Ernest Hester, president of the Senior Woman's Club; Miss Beulah McFall, president of the Business and Professional Woman's Club; Rev. Seba Hamm, representing the Kiwanis club; Mrs. Cornell Wallwork, the Junior Woman's club, and Miss Alice Hood, of the W. T. Grant store which sponsored the doll contest.

Married Couples Have Picnic At Bisbing Home

Henryville — The Young Married Couples of the Paradise charge enjoyed an outdoor picnic supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bisbing on Tuesday night, July 17. The ominous weather kept them in suspense, but they managed to eat all of the delicious meal by pretending that the few rain drops which fell were merely perspiration. The couples had brought dishes, consisting of meat loaf, baked beans, baked salmon loaf, baked ham, potato salad, macaroni salad, pickles, jello, cookies and soft drinks.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bisbing, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Post and sons, Bobby and Jimmy; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nauman and children Janet and Larry Jr.; and Mrs. Paul Barry. Next month's meeting will also be an outdoor one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Post on August 21.

Around The Stroudsburgs

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hartman, of Camp Hill, Pa., have been spending the week with Mrs. Seldon Dunning, Prospect St., East Stroudsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Stiff, of Lee Ave., Stroudsburg yesterday celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary. There was no formal celebration, since they recently returned from a trip marking their anniversary ahead of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brooks, of St. Petersburg, Fla., left for home yesterday after a two week stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Paxton, 321 Colbert St., Stroudsburg. Mr. Brooks is a linotype operator in St. Petersburg.

Legion Aux. Picnic Held; Council Today

The picnic scheduled by the American Legion auxiliary of George N. Kemp post was transferred from the East Stroudsburg playgrounds to the Legion Home on Thursday night because of the weather, but the picnic menu and picnic mood pervaded the meeting.

An executive board meeting with Mrs. Vincent Marek presiding followed the supper. Plans were discussed for attending the meeting of the Four-County Council today in Palmerton, which will be held in connection with the 30th District Convention for the men. About 11 members of the auxiliary plan to attend the council meeting.

Tricks To Keep Cool To Ladies' Aid

By Vivian Brown
AP Newsfeatures writer

Mom probably would get less tired working in a factory during the summer than at home.

At least most factories have installed air conditioning, recreation facilities as a respite from a long day, and cooling drinks well-timed as refreshers and pick-me-ups.

But what about the housemaker? She works a long day, sometimes doesn't even stop for lunch, and is practically in a state of collapse by nightfall.

We can't afford air conditioning in our homes. But it would pay to get a system into summer housework that would give several respites during the day, and short-cuts to chores.

One summer habit should be the shower before the day starts and a shower or bath before dinner. Surely Mom can spare these few minutes in a warm sudsy bath that will prove even more cooling than a cold bath.

Heavy cleaning should be done in the cool mornings—rug cleaning, furniture polishing, window washing and floor mopping. It is even a better bet to get the man of the house to do this on Saturday mornings, or at least to help you.

In the middle of the afternoon, take a cue from your South American sisters and try the siesta. The foggy winks you get, if even for a few minutes, will make your dusting, darning or ironing afternoon tasks seem lighter.

Take advantage of cleaning attachments, which will keep you from perspiring when reaching or bending in trying to clean walls, blinds or in corners. A carpet sweeper used every day is easier to push than a vacuum cleaner, used every other day. An easily squeezed mop which requires no bending, also is a help during the summer.

If you strive for cool looking effects in the home—greens in bowls, summer-weight fabrics at windows, shades drawn during the hot part of the day—you will feel cooler. Clean out the fireplace and place a large bowl of leaves in it.

Keep a tray of ice-cubes or cracked ice in the refrigerator for cooling drinks. Take adequate time for lunch and don't have a rushed feeling about it. A salad consisting of hard boiled eggs, carrots, celery and perhaps some cucumbers and radishes in sour cream, is tasty for a summer lunch.

When working around the house on a hot day, wear attractive shorts and shirt, perhaps with a skirt combination, which can be donned when the doorbell buzzes. If your hair isn't short, pin it high on your head and tie it with a gay ribbon. Wear shoes with low heels which will not tire you so much as flat-heeled shoes or high heels.

If you want to keep laundering chores down to a minimum,

Honors To Pastor For 25 Years

Kunkletown — The 25th anniversary service honoring the ordination, installation and pastoral care of Rev. Adan A. Bohner in the Brookheadsville - Hamilton charge, was held on Sunday night at the Christ Hamilton church, Selota, the same church in which the services were held 25 years ago.

Rev. E. O. Butkowsky, D.D., of the Hellerstown charge was in charge of the services and delivered the sermon. He and Mr. Bohner attended Franklin Marshall Seminary, Lancaster, at the same time.

Greetings and congratulations were extended by Rev. James Laubach and Rev. John Bergstrasser, Lutheran colleagues; by Rev. James Shannon, former Lutheran colleague, now of Middleburg; Rev. J. Brumbaugh, of Bangor, and Rev. George Kopenhaver, an uncle of Rev. Bohner, now retired and living in Palmerton. Rev. Kopenhaver had assisted in the services 25 years ago.

George Costenbader, representing the members of the four congregations in the charge, presented the pastor with a wallet containing money for the purchase of a deep freezer. A silver tea service from the St. Matthews Kunkletown Union Sunday school, and a forged aluminum tray and candlesticks from the joined choir at Kunkletown, and a pen and pencil set from St. Matthew's consistory was presented to him.

The offering for the services was also presented, and the combined junior and senior choirs of the four churches sang several selections. Each congregation had also sent large baskets of flowers to decorate the church for the occasion.

The pastor's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bohner, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Schlegel, of Dalmatia were among those attending the service.

GOP Council In Barrett At Price Home

Barrett — The Barrett Township Council of Republican Women met at the home of the president, Mrs. Sue C. Price, Canadensis on Tuesday night, July 17, with 25 members present.

During the business meeting, the council voted to contribute $2 to the Pennsylvania State Council of Republican Women to meet increased dues to the national federation.

Department reports were given by Mrs. Lena Swaine, Health and Welfare; Mrs. Herman Ruoff, education; Mrs. Sue C. Price, legislative and Congressional.

Mrs. Mary Gravel reported on the recent picnic sponsored by the Monroe Council of Republican Women which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rake.

The nominating committee reported its slate of officers for next year, which will be voted upon at the next council meeting in September.

Mrs. Raymond Price spoke on behalf of the Home Nursing program. She announced that the Monroe Council chapter of the American Red Cross is planning a course in home nursing in Barrett in the fall, probably under the auspices of the PTA. Instruction will be given to prepare women to take care of their families at home, and the wounded and ill people in case of an atomic attack. Mrs. Price said that in case of an enemy attack of nearby cities, many wounded might be evacuated to the Poconos, which should be prepared to care for them. She urged the council members to consider the course to be able to care for themselves and help others. She also suggested that it would be wise to can as much fruits and vegetables as possible to forestall a possible shortage of food in case of an attack and evacuation of hundreds of city people to the Poconos.

At the close of the business meeting, plans were discussed to contact friends and neighbors to urge them to vote on Tuesday, July 24. Anyone needing transportation to the polls may call any council member it was announced.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Betty Rogers, Mrs. Herman Ruoff, Mrs. Ruth Ford, Mrs. Deborah Brush, Mrs. Joseph Price and Mrs. Mary Gravel as hostesses.

Army Police Take Hayes Into Custody

Richard Hayes, 19, Pocono Summit, was released to military police from Philadelphia yesterday by the sheriff's office. Hayes had been picked up for being absent without leave from Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The young GI had only been absent without leave 48 hours when he was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriff Grover Hay

County's Two Airports In Satellite Category Under State Atomic Bomb Evacuation Program

Monte County's two airports—Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg, and the Mount Pocono Airport—are listed as "satellites" under an atomic bomb evacuation program pursuant to a wire from military authorities at Camp Atterbury.

Hay returned the private first class to the sheriff's office at 10:30 a. m. yesterday and military police took custody at about 3:30 p. m. yesterday.

being prepared by Pennsylvania Civil Defense and aeronautics officials.

These two airports, together with sites which have emergency landing strips, private airfields, are in the "satellite" category and will serve as utility airports in the event other fields become overcrowded during an emergency following an attack.

On a statewide basis the air evacuation and supply movement program calls for using 4,000 aircraft and 20,000 pilots, in addition to mechanics and other personnel.

While complete details will not be ready for some time, there is a possibility that classification of existing local airports, especially Mount Pocono may be changed.

Mount Pocono Airport Authority is now embarked on an expansion program will extend runways and be the forerunner of a more extensive project to further expand facilities at the field.

Under the Civilian Defense and Aeronautics Commission program such airports as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Avoca, Harrisburg will be classified as "master control airports."

The plan calls for using the "master airports" as places for evacuating seriously injured, importing medical supplies and food or other supplies needed after an attack.

Airports in York, Lancaster, Allentown, Erie and Reading will be classified as "control airports" and would be used as landing

Boy Scouts Report 14 Advancements

Eighteen advancements in scouting were made by scouts of Troop 97 and Explorer Post 98 at the regular troop meeting Thursday night in Grace Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg. Thomas I. Kintner and William Tough were officially inducted into the troop as tenderfoot scouts at a special candlelight investiture service conducted by Scoutmaster Raymond Hartman, Ronald Polke and Ralph Carter were advanced to second-class rank.

Seventeen merit badge applications were received by the Board of Review and certified for presentation at the court of honor to be held on August 2 at 7 p. m.

Twenty-six scouts of Troop 97 have registered for Camp Weygand from August 5-13. This number represents the largest delegation from one troop ever to attend the camp from the Delaware Valley council, and reflects the enthusiasm and capable leadership of the troop committee and scoutleaders.

On Sunday, July 29, the entire scouting family will attend church service at 11 a. m. to receive the three charters for the respective units for the new scouting year. Rev. W. F. Wunder will deliver a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

Seventeen scouts of the troop will attend an overnight hike this weekend to Saw creek, Pike county. The encampment will be near the State police cabin.

Members of the troop committee present at Thursday night's Board of Review were F. Jay Snover, chairman; Clarence Strunk, Joseph T. Pierce, William P. Miller, Clifford R. Kintner, Rev. W. F. Wunder, Explorer Post Leader Robert Tough and Scoutmaster Raymond Hartman.

William Landon Watring, of 106 Delaware Drive, Matamoras, Watring graduated from a high school in Lakewood, Col., this year, and just recently moved to Matamoras. They will be sent to the naval

Rev. Blatt To Give Sermon At Union Services Sunday

Guest soloist at morning worship service in Zion Reformed church will be Donald Aulenbach, Allentown. He has sung in the church a number of times. Mr. Aulenbach possesses a fine tenor voice.

The soloist has chosen for his solo "If With All Your Hearts" from Elijah by Mendelssohn. Senior choir will sing the anthem "Come Ye Blessed" by Scott-Dies with Mark Setzer as soloist. Rev. Frank Blatt, pastor, will discuss "Give Me the Hill Country."

Community service at 7:30 p. m. will be held at LaBar's Rhododendron nursery. In case of rain services will be held in the church at the same hour.

Rev. Blatt will be in charge of services and speak on "God in Nature and Nature's God". Choir of the church will sing a series of four spirituals — "Somebody's Knockin'" with Homer Quig as soloist; "Every Time I Feel the Spirit"; "Jacob's Ladder"; and "Lord I Want to Be a Christian" with Mrs. Vernon Imbt as soloist.

MR. AND MRS. VOTER:

Before you vote next Tuesday, will you consider these facts?

In 1936 your bonded indebtedness was $305,000.00. Today it is reduced to $10,000.00.

In 1936 your county home indebtedness was $125,000.00. The debt could have been carried indefinitely but plans were made to pay it off in full, when it became due, which was done in November of 1939, thereby saving the taxpayers of Monroe County $5,312.50 per year in interest.

All of our boroughs have been greatly improved with better streets and flood control. All of our township roads are in good condition and all of the highways constructed by the State, in the County, have been built with the cooperation of the Commissioners in making substantial appropriations for each of their constructions.

All branches of our government have been compelled to increase their taxes but these are a few of the things that have been done with no increased cost in your County taxes.

If you think this is sound business management, I will greatly appreciate your support and your vote.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Future activities of the East Stroudsburg Little League will be greatly decided in the borough of East Stroudsburg today, when the circuit holds its first Tag Day. All revenue realized from the sale of tags will go toward the construction of a new Little League stadium. The money will defray the cost of the new field, dugouts, bleachers and a fence.

Original estimates indicated the new field would cost in the neighborhood of $5,000 and at the present time those who have guided the destinies of the league virtually through its initial year of official membership, find themselves $2,000 short of the goal and their dream to make a Little League park an actuality. The people of the borough, many of whom never miss a game, are now being asked to give toward one of the most wonderful things to ever hit the community.

Every youngster from every town will do his best to raise the funds today, when he makes his way through the streets of the borough, with the hope that every resident will purchase at least one tag. The success of today's Tag Day affair doesn't reflect on the boys selling the tags alone, but even more important these youngsters are trying to put Little League baseball on a solid footing in their community, so that those walking in their foot-prints in later years will be privileged to play the game as it should be played—and with all the trimmings.

Regardless of the size of the coin deposited in each player's box today, the person making the offering will be rewarded with a tag, but even more important the generous citizens will be rewarded with the knowledge that they have contributed their share toward making Little League baseball not only possible in East Stroudsburg, but making it a fixture for the future, a game that boys between the ages of eight and 12 will be able to enjoy and perhaps use as a spring-board to greater things in the diamond department.

Reports reaching this column last night indicated that several of the boys, who for one reason or another would be unable to solicit funds today, got off to an early start yesterday, by doing their share in the money raising campaign, even though it was 24 hours early. Further reports revealed that at least one player was able to procure $12, a feat if duplicated by all the youngsters would certainly put the drive over the top. A total of $2,000 is a lot of money, but it is guaranteed to give many times more than that amount in happiness, not only this year but in future campaigns.

Mike Rubish, head professional at Glen Brook Country club, refuses to believe the Yankees are finished as far as the American League pennant race is concerned. Mike is still confident that his favorite club can come through John "Juice" Arnet, letterman in football, basketball and baseball at East Stroudsburg High, is getting in condition for the 1952 grid campaign by doing mass work in the Cresco area. Arnet is also on the roster of the Portland Apollos, of the Blue Mountain League.

Tonight's Little League contest between the Security Trust entry in the Hazleton circuit and a team from Hazleton will be the first Little League encounter held on a Saturday this season. The twilight affair is slated for 6:30, at the Stroudsburg Playground. At Nerino, dividing his time between the outfield and infield for Rose A. A. Blue Mountain League, attended East Stroudsburg State Teachers College for one year, before moving on to Penn State, where he is currently studying journalism.

Frank Radler, popular pilot of the Stroudsburg Poconos for the past three years and now managing the Deland club, class "D" Florida State League, recently came through with a brilliant display of relief pitching, to save a 5-4 decision for his team over Leesburg. With runners on second and third, and only one out, Radler came on the scene in the ninth to strike out the first batter to face him and get the second on an easy pop-up. As of Monday of this week, Deland had won 62 and lost only 30 games, while second place Orlando was sporting a mark of 56 victory and 34 setbacks.

Ed Werkheiser, former baseball and basketball star at Pocono High school, is now building a home in Scotrun, "Mace" Barnhart, pitcher who will undoubtedly face Pocono A. C. tomorrow for East Bangor, is considering entering professional baseball next year, this column has been informed. Radler contacted Barnhart this year, but the youngster didn't want to join the Deland club, at least not this season. Barnhart opened the present campaign with Eastern, when that city still had an entry in the Tri-County League. Jim Dietz, veteran right handed hurler, is not only pitching well for East Bangor, but is currently listed as one of the top hitters in the Blue Mountain League at the present time.

Special Prize To Be Awarded To Driver Who Defeats Kershner At Delaware Valley Track

Stock car racing, with 50 entries listed to take part in the action, is scheduled to hold the center of the stage at the Delaware Valley Speedway tomorrow, with the first race listed for 2 p. m.

One of the largest fields of the present season is scheduled to go through the paces at the half-mile dirt track located near the Stroudsburg - East Stroudsburg airport, just off route 209.

Braves Score Six Times In First Inning To Run Over Pirates In Free Scoring Contest

Boston (AP)—After scoring six runs on only one hit in the first inning, the Boston Braves rolled on to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 11-6, last night in the opener of a four-game series. While chalking up his tenth win, lefty Warren Spahn gave the Pirates ten hits, including Ralph Kiner's twenty-fourth homer of the season.

The defeat left the Sox two percentage points back of the pace setting Boston Red Sox, who were lambasted by Detroit, 6-1.

Red Hose Hold Lead Despite Loss To Tigers

Detroit (AP)—Righthander Marlin Stuart stepped into a starting role for the first time this season and shakked the powerful Boston Red Sox with only six hits to gain a 6-1 win for the Detroit Tigers last night.

A crowd of 5,653 saw the Tigers shove across five runs on seven singles in the fourth inning to hand starter "Chuck" Stobbs his fourth loss as against seven wins.

Slider
Stuart's win marked the first time in four weeks the Tigers had topped two games in a row—and both games featured relief pitchers making initial 1951 starts.

Louis Asks Walcott For Title Chance

Camden, N. J. (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott's manager said last night that Joe Louis asked him for a title fight with Walcott.

And Felix Boechicchio, manager of the new heavyweight boxing champion, said, "I told Joe it was okay with me if it was okay with the International Boxing Club."

Harry Markson, IBC managing director, said that Jim Norris, IBC president, told him that the only fight he was working on was a return match between Walcott and Ezzard Charles, whom Walcott dethroned in Pittsburgh two nights ago with a seventh round knockout.

Boechicchio said Louis telephoned him just before he caught a plane from Pittsburgh to Camden last night. He said Louis asked for the first crack at Walcott's title.

Statement
The manager said he told Louis he'd prefer to give him the fight because it was Louis who gave Walcott his first two opportunities for the title and I thought it was only right.

Louis said he was "ready" to fight Walcott any time—and, said the former champ: "The sooner I get my chance the better."

"I sure would welcome a shot at the championship again," he said, "but I really think Charles, deserves the first chance. He's entitled to it, but he needs a rest, too. He's been fighting too much."

Jake Mintz, co-manager of Charles, didn't think very much of report. Reached at Pittsburgh, Mintz said that "any report that Walcott will give Louis the first shot is a lot of baloney. We have an ironclad contract with Walcott for Ezzard to have the first crack."

Part of the mixup results from the proposed title and date for a Walcott-Charles rematch. Norris has said he wants the rematch for polo grounds in New York on September 26.

But both Boechicchio and Mintz have objected to that date.

Durocher Inks New Contract
New York (AP)—Leo Durocher signed a one-year contract yesterday to continue as manager of the New York Giants through the 1952 season.

No terms were announced but both Durocher, who came to the Giants from Brooklyn in July of 1948, and owner Horace Stoneham said they were "mutually satisfied." Guesses as to the salary were in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Former Facts
After completing the 1948 season as Giant boss under the terms of his Brooklyn contract, Durocher signed yesterday to guide the team during 1949. That contract was extended in June, 1949, for two years and will expire at the end of this season.

Konstanty Wins
Connors had just committed two errors to enable the Phillies to load the sacks. He failed to keep his foot on the bag on Bob Rasmussen's toss of Pellagrini's grounder. Dick Sisler then walked and Connors fumbled Ed Waitkus' roller.

The victory went to reliever Jim Konstanty. Bob Rush was charged with his fifth defeat in ten decisions. Chicago—000 300 000 00—3 7 3 Philadelphia—011 010 000 01—4 12 1

Americans Open Gap Over Japan

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Davis Cup fledglings Dick Savitt and Herbie Flam swept over Japanese opponents without the loss of a set yesterday to give the United States a 2-0 lead in the first round of the American zone tennis eliminations.

Savitt, the big, dark-haired lad from Orange, N. J., who recently won the Wimbledon championship, fought off five set points in the opening series to subdue Fumiteru Nakano, Japan's little international veteran, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

Then Flam, Los Angeles' tireless retriever, holds the nation's number two ranking, staged two stout rallies to conquer the Nipponese top-ranked player, Jiro Kumamaru, 7-5, 6-0, 7-5.

Long Time
The matches—featuring Japan's first Davis cup competition in 13 years and the first international meeting with the Americans since 1921—were staged under a warm sun that bathed a crowd of 1,500 at the exclusive Louisville Boat Club.

Thus America's young cup forces moved into a position to clinch the first round victory in today's doubles, starting at 3:30 p. m. (EDT).

The Japanese have little hopes of upsetting Uncle Sam's crack tandem of Billy Talbot of New York and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, a hard-mashing, sharp-volleying pair unbeaten in 16 matches over two years.

Against the team the Japs will send Nakano and Goro Fujikura, a bespectacled left-hander from Tokyo. The final two singles matches, reversing yesterday's lineup, are scheduled tomorrow.

Dodgers Win Over Cards

Brooklyn (AP)—Lefty "Preacher" Roe stopped the St. Louis Cardinals for the fifth straight time this season as the first place Brooklyn Dodgers whipped the Red birds, 5-2, last night. It was Brooklyn's 21st straight victory over the Cardinals.

Roe, who has yet to lose to St. Louis this season, gave up seven hits in posting his thirteenth victory against two setbacks. Two of the hits off him were home runs by Eno Slaughter, in the sixth, and Wally Westlake, in the ninth.

Max Lanier, replaced by Tom Poholsky in the eighth, was the loser. Lanier served up a home run to Roy Campanella in the sixth inning with none on.

With one out in the first inning, Pee Wee Reese singled and Duke Snider walked for the Dodgers. Jackie Robinson sent Reese home with a single, and Snider came across on Gil Hodges' long fly.

Carl Furillo's walk and a long double by Reese accounted for run number three in the third inning. Reese's third hit scored Cox, who had singled and advanced on Roe's sacrifice, in the fifth.

The crowd of 30,683 saw Roe serve up home run balls number 19 and 20, high for the National League. St. Louis—000 001 001—2 7 0 Brooklyn—201 011 005—3 7 0

Ashburn's Single Wins For Phillies

Philadelphia (AP)—Richie Ashburn's single with the bases loaded in the eleventh inning last night gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs before 16,642 fans.

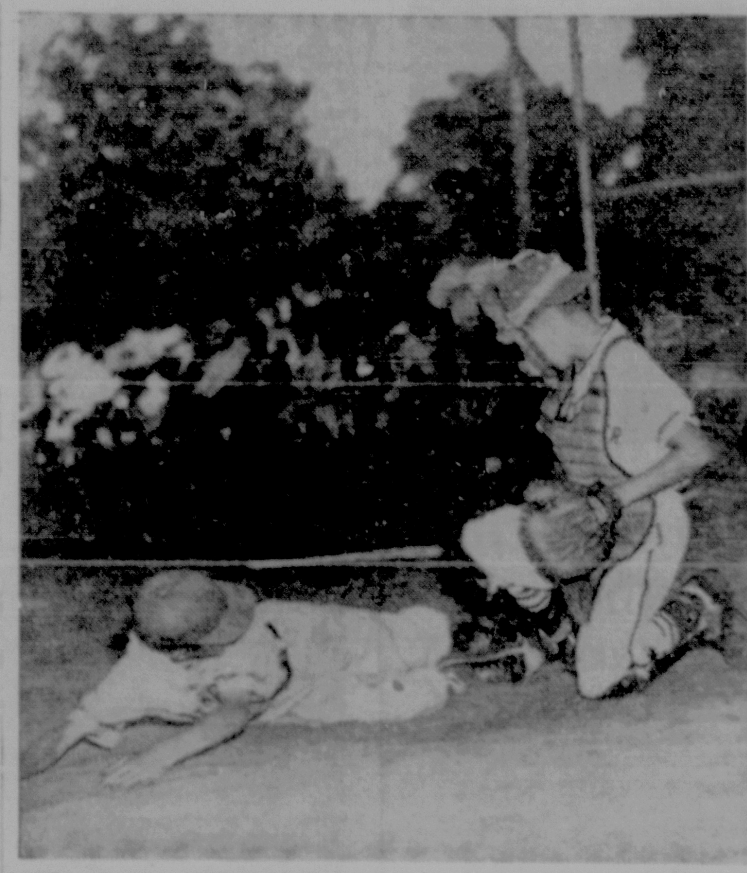

Cub first baseman "Chuck" Connors tipped Ashburn's bouncer into a base hit and Ed Pellagrini scored.

Methodists Score In Sixth To Defeat Cramer Lumber, 2-1

A pair of singles was enough to give the Methodists a 2-1 victory over R. C. Cramer Lumber Co. last night in an East Stroudsburg Little League contest, played at the East Stroudsburg Playground.

A walk to Dick Wolslayer with the bases loaded in the fifth frame forced Bob Dellaria home with the tying run, as the Lumber Co. contingent had scored its only marker in the first frame.

However, it took a wild throw by catcher Dick Shaffer, on an attempted pick-off at third base, to admit Paul Dellaria with the winning run in the sixth. Dellaria reached base by shaffer's walk. The throw by Shaffer went by Francis McGarry at third and on into left field, allowing the winning run to score the plate.

Only Score
McGarry raced home with Cramer's only run of the game. King Beers worked five and two-thirds innings for the winning team, but needed help from Bob Dellaria in the final round. Dellaria took over the pitching duties with runners on second and third base and quickly forced Smith to ground out, second to first, ending the game.

The Lumber Co. contingent blasted out five hits, including a double by Clayton Lyons, but finished on the short end of the outpour of runs.

West End To Feature Races
Gilbert—West End Speedway is again scheduled to hold its regular Sunday stock car racing tomorrow, with a large field of cars expected, as the number of Monroe County tracks has been cut from three to two, due to the fact that Blakeslee's Pocono Sunrise Speedway will be inactive for several weeks.

Tomorrow's program will feature six events and will get underway at 2:30 p. m.

The action will consist of three qualifying heats, a consolation grind, a semi-final race and the feature event.

Yanks Edge Brownies
St. Louis (AP)—Tom Morgan pitched the New York Yankees to a three-hit, 1-0 shutout over Ned Garver and the St. Louis Browns last night in a contest that drew 15,242, largest home crowd of the season for the Browns. Morgan scored the run himself in the eighth inning on a single by Bobby Brown.

Steele To Pitch Against Barnhardt

Pocono A. C. will be shooting for a tie for the top spot in the Blue Mountain League tomorrow, when Manager John Schoonover and company invade the home domain of the league leading East Bangor club, the latter holding a full game edge over Pocono A. C. at the present time.

The game, which will feature Ray Steels pitching for Pocono A. C. and "Mace" Barnhart for East Bangor, is scheduled to get underway at 2:30 p. m.

It will be the third meeting of the two teams this season, with each holding one victory to date. However, rain has deprived the arch rivals of one other game, forcing its postponement on two occasions. The rained out battle is to be fought at Gordon Giffels field at a date to be announced.

Records
Steele has won four games in the Blue Mountain League thus far this season, without suffering a setback, while Barnhart, brother to Jim Barnhardt, hurler with the Bangor club, of the North Atlantic League, last year, has won his only start in the circuit.

Manager Schoonover announced last night that the Pocono A. C. lineup will be exactly the same as the one that won over Portland last Sunday, 5-1.

This means John Drew will do the catching, Danny Eppley will do the catching, Dewey Martling, second base; Jim Werkheiser, shortstop; Tom "Lem" Bonser, third base; Doug Schoonover, left field; Aiden "Red" Fetherman center field, and Bob Schick will handle the right field territory.

The remainder of the circuit will feature Portland, number five club in the league, taking on third place Roseto, on the latter's home field, West Bangor, fourth in the standings, will oppose sixth place Tatamy, at Tatamy, while last place Johnsonville tangles with seventh place Stockertown, at Stockertown.

In all cases Blue Mountain League games begin at 2:30 p. m.

Giants Swamp Reds
New York (AP)—Home runs by Sal Yvars and Willie Mays made Sal Maglie's thirteenth victory an easy one last night as the New York Giants ace right-hander stepped the Cincinnati Reds, 11 to 5. The victory moved the Giants into second place, past the St. Louis Cardinals who lost to Brooklyn 5-2.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANK

SATURDAY, JULY 21, 1951

March 23 to April 30 (Aries).—Peripatetic waiters on business, household and property deeds stand out in relief. High hopes for spring and summer, but you can achieve good results. Heart interests favored.

April 21 to May 15 (Taurus).—Look ahead to the future. Rate your work, business and personal affairs carefully. Don't rush. Clear all your debts and commitments. Do not lose your good qualities.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini).—Money and deals for the future. Do not allow business transactions. Might lose little things to upset you. See how you can benefit by them.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer).—Realize good things for the future. Beware of who would destroy good spirit and success. Help eliminate gloom for others. Do not let your will be overruled.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo).—Day may be a bit difficult at first; be patient. Keep your eyes on the prize. Do not lead into assets. Be unyielding. Questionable schemes. Make friends.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo).—A little sound force in business. In your judgment, can turn things to your surprise benefit. Will not lessen your dignity to comply.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra).—Day sort of carbon copy of Virgo. Have no fear, yet be not too forceful. Keep right purpose, avoid needless arguments with associates. You should act.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio).—

Generous action carefully directed should bring new results. All worth endeavor highlighted. Make the best of all things. You can, should have a most useful day.

November 25 to December 2 (Sagittarius)—Very promising indications for the month. All things are well favored with the pleasant and successful affairs. Be mindful of health matters, but not duties.

December 23 to January 2 (Capricorn)—Whole day generally favorable with financial interests, household and business affairs. All things are well. Should be ideal day for healthy outdoor sports and recreation.

January 23 to February 2 (Aquarius)—A very busy day. In this month show appreciation for all blessings by attending due tasks efficiently, pleasant and free, and care your securities, time, and credits.

February 21 to March 3 (Pisces)—A very busy day. In this month talents and personal interests. The unusual and artistic honored. Unexpected success and freedom and opportunity for the future. Be rightly ambitious.

YOU BORN TODAY—Active, energetic, and ambitious. You have no obstacles. But also sensitive. May have to curb tendency to be too aggressive, much, and perhaps too strong. On an occasion also too daring. Great and valuable asset for anyone to possess is humility. How much more so, when one gains the opportunity to use one own shortcomings and appreciate the capability of others. You can achieve much by being young and in contact with many people. Do retain your many fine characteristics and be a leader. You are a real and true founder of the Oratorians.

Denz Named Manager Of Office Here

Carl J. Denz, formerly acting manager of the Allentown office, Bureau of Employment & Unemployment Compensation, is now serving as manager of the East Stroudsburg office covering both Monroe and Pike counties.

Mr. Denz has been affiliated with this service since 1938. He has been busy since his arrival here meeting and directing requests for service. He will make his home on Park Ave., Stroudsburg about August 1.

During his years of service with the bureau, Mr. Denz has held a number of posts. He served in Easton office as principal claim clerk.

In 1942 he moved to the State office as procedure analyst, contacting offices throughout the State on organization and management problems.

He became acting manager of the Allentown office in 1943, and when the War Manpower Commission was created in the latter part of that year he became assistant area director under Dr. Frank P. Maguire.

In February, 1946, after WMC was dissolved, Mr. Denz returned to Allentown as acting manager. He held that post, except for a brief tour of duty at Bethlehem office, until he was assigned to the East Stroudsburg office.

Lions Club To Sponsor Swim Event

The annual water carnival to be staged Saturday August 4, by the Stroudsburg Playground swimming pool, will be sponsored again this year by the Stroudsburg Lions club.

Registration blanks for the program, which will include games, swimming and diving events, and a water ballet, will be posted today and tomorrow outside the "shack" near the pool.

There will be money prizes and inscribed medals for good citizenship awarded to participants. The winners of the medals will be selected by the children who swim daily at the pool.

It has been announced that due to the large response on the part of the adults for an adult swimming class, instruction will begin Tuesday at 6 p. m. Classes will be held from then on, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 to 8 p. m. All interested adults should report to the pool at the above times. Charles Bruch and Joe DeRenzis are in charge of the classes.

Schaller Funeral Rites Conducted

Funeral services were held for Mrs. Frances Ellen Schaller, of 138 Sopher St., East Stroudsburg, yesterday at 2:30 p. m. at the Lanterman funeral home.

Members of her class from the Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, East Stroudsburg, attended in a body Thursday night to pay their respects.

Palbearers for the funeral were Stanley Dannicker, Hanford L. Cleveland, James Bunnell, and Edgar Van Why. Interment was in Prospect cemetery, East Stroudsburg.

Pastor Home After Absence Of Two Weeks

Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Stroudsburg, will preach in the local church tomorrow after an absence of two weeks, during which time he was serving on the staff of Camp Michaux and helping with a rancher's camp meeting in Wyoming.

The theme for tomorrow's sermon is "When God Moves the Landmarks." This sermon will be drawn from the Book of the Acts, the sixth in a series taken from that book.

At the morning service, along with the senior choir anthem, addition special music will be provided by the men's chorus of the church. This extra number has been worked into the order of worship, partially as a testimony to William Coe, one of the tenors in the choir, who is soon to leave this community for the west coast.

At 7 p. m., the church will worship at LaBar's Rhododendron nursery under the leadership of Rev. Frank H. Blatt.

Extended Forecast

Extended forecast for the period through Wednesday, July 25: Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and mid-Atlantic states: temperatures will average a little above normal, with slowly rising trend; fair weather, over weekend with a showery period beginning about Monday.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 5 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Minister Plans Timely Sermon

Rev. L. Wilmer VanAuken acting pastor of the Hauserville Union chapel selected a timely subject for his sermon Sunday at 8 p. m. The sermon deals with cycles and events leading from Bible times through and including 1953-54. It is called "Morning comes early in Heaven or it is later than you think." He will prove by this message that World Events are happening by design of the Divine Providence and not by chance. There will be special music at all services.
